Transfield Services Shellharbour Ocean Swim

Saturday, April 18th 2009.

Event 4th Annual Transfield Services Shellharbour Ocean Swim ~ 1.2 km Event.
Shellharbour Boat Harbour to Shellharbour North Beach

Date Saturday 18th April 2009 Start: 11.00am

Organisers Shellharbour Surf Life Saving Club Inc

Course Leave the sandy foreshore of Shellharbour Boat Harbour heading through the boat harbour entrance, then swim out and north around Cowries headland, follow the foreshore to Cunji Rock Platform and onto main patrolled beach at North Shellharbour.

Distance 1.2 km

Conditions Expected Fine and mild autumn conditions prevail at this time of the year. Water temperatures are still favourable for swimmers, and wet suits are not generally required. This is a short course and leaves from the picturesque boat harbour, then follows the rocky shore line and onto the main beach at Shellharbour. Water is not particularly deep and clear conditions generally prevail, providing good under water scenery. There should be plenty of fish & other scenery. There should be plenty of fish & other marine creatures to spot as swimmers negotiate the gentle rock reefs. Spectators and supporters can easily follow the progress of all competitors from the many vantage points along the shoreline walking trail. The swim will finish through the surf break in front of the Surf Life Saving Club.

Organiser's Comment

This is the fourth year for this event. Our previous three events provided to be very popular with all the swimmers. It has an easy entry, interesting course, easy exit & caterers for swimmers of all abilities. This time of the year is particularly favourable to ocean swimming, with smoother seas, good visibility and comfortable water temperatures. Once again we will conduct our event in conjunction with the popular Mollymook Surf Life Saving Club ocean swim the following day. It provides those swimmers, making the annual trip down to Mollymook, with a unique "double-header" event. A special prize category will be available for those competing in both events.
